Policy Memorandum

SUBJECT: Eligibility for Members of the National Guard of the United States to Naturalize under Section 329 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Acceptance of NGB Form 22 as Certification of Military Service for National Guard Veterans; Revision to the Adjudicator's Field Manual (AFM) Chapter 72.2(d)(3); AFM Update AD10-42

Purpose

This Policy Memorandum (PM) provides field guidance pertaining to members of the Army National Guard of the United States and the Air National Guard of the United States (hereafter "National Guard") for purposes of naturalization under section 329 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA). This PM also provides field guidance and an AFM update on the acceptance of National Guard Bureau (NGB) Form 22, "National Guard Report of Separation and Record of Service," as certification of service in the Armed Forces for purposes of naturalization under section 328 or 329 of the INA.

Scope

Unless specifically exempted herein, this PM applies to and binds all USCIS employees.

Authority

INA § 328, 329

Background

On November 24, 2003, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2004, [Pub. L. 108-136, 117 Stat. 1392 (2003)] amended the INA to extend the benefit of naturalization under section 329 to individuals who have served honorably as members of the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve¹ of the U.S. Armed Forces during designated periods of hostilities.

The Selected Reserve consists of those units and individuals within the Ready Reserve designated by their respective services as so essential to the national military strategy that they have priority over all other Reserves. They also adhere to specific training requirements determined by their respective services.² A service member's affiliation with the Selected Reserve is determined by the U.S. Armed Forces. With regard to National Guard members, the National Guard determines when one of its members is a member of the Selected Reserve.

Most members of the National Guard adhere to Selected Reserve training requirements and are, accordingly, members of the Selected Reserve of their respective services. See Attachment C. When a National Guard member is a member of the Selected Reserve, his or her service allows naturalization under INA section 329 based on that service. The applicant need not have active duty service or be part of a National Guard unit "during such time as the unit is Federally recognized as a reserve component of the Armed Forces and that unit is called for active duty" in order to qualify under section 329.³

Policy

All USCIS offices are directed to comply with this guidance.

A National Guard member applying for naturalization under section 329 who does not have qualifying active duty service must show service in the Selected Reserve. For an applicant who files for naturalization while still a member of the National Guard, this is accomplished through a properly annotated Form N-426, "Request for Certification of Military or Naval Service." For an example of a properly annotated Form N-426 that establishes Selected Reserve service, see Attachment A.

For National Guard members who file for naturalization after separation from service, however, proof of service can be accomplished through NGB Form 22 (see Attachment B). The National Guard Bureau has informed USCIS that it only issues NGB Form 22 to those members of the Guard who served in the Selected Reserve. See Attachment C. Accordingly, the NGB Form 22 is conclusive proof of service in the Selected Reserve and can be used to document military service for purposes of sections 328 and 329 of the INA.⁴

² Note that not all members of the Reserves qualify – only those in the "Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve." See January 24, 2004 PM, Implementation Instructions for Title XVII of Public Law 108-136, "National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2004."

³ Please note that the regulatory definition of "active duty status" for member of the National Guard contained in 8 CFR 329.1 has not been updated since the passage of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2004. Nonetheless, because of the enactment of the NDAA for 2004, National Guard members are no longer required to meet the definition of active-duty status contained in 8 CFR 329.1.

under Section 329 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Acceptance of NGB Form 22 as Certification of Military Service for National Guard Veterans; Revision to the AFM Chapter 72.2(d)(3); AFM Update AD10-42

Effective immediately, USCIS will accept an uncertified Form N-426 along with an NGB Form 22 from veteran National Guard applicants if all of the following conditions are met:

1. The applicant is separated from the Armed Forces at the time of filing Form N-400;
2. The applicant submitted a photocopy of his or her NGB Form 22 that lists eligible service (such service should also be listed on Form N-426); and
3. NGB Form 22 lists information on the type of separation and character of service (such information may be found in block 24).

Note that USCIS will not accept NGB Form 22b, “Army National Guard Recruit Force Pool Report,” as certification of Selected Reserve service because, as further explained in Attachment C, it is issued to National Guard members who never served in the Selected Reserve.

Immigration Services Officers may request additional verification if needed to verify military service.

If...	Then...
Form N-426 establishes that the applicant has served in active duty status or in the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve during a designated period of hostility ⁵	The applicant has met the evidentiary requirement for military service under INA section 329(a).
Form N-426 does not list service in active duty status or in the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve service during a designated period of hostility	Applicant or National Guard certifier must resolve the deficiency before USCIS will consider the certification requirement met. The following evidence will serve as fulfillment of the certification requirement: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Form N-426 with “active duty” or “Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve” annotated or the applicable box checked⁶; OR 2) If the applicant is separated from the Armed Forces, a copy of the applicant’s DD Form 214 or NGB Form 22 that lists eligible service.  DO NOT ACCEPT NGB Form 22b

⁶ Form N-426 with “Other” checked in the “Military Service” section on page 1 (Form N-426 with Revision date 3/24/09) does not fulfill the military service requirements for INA section 329.

under Section 329 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Acceptance of NGB Form 22 as Certification of Military Service for National Guard Veterans; Revision to the AFM Chapter 72.2(d)(3); AFM Update AD10-42

If a naturalization application filed by a member of the National Guard was denied on or after November 24, 2003 on the sole ground that the applicant did not have qualifying active duty status or did not belong to a National Guard unit during such a time that the unit was called for active duty, the applicant may seek reconsideration of the denial by requesting a Service motion to reopen in writing at his or her local USCIS office. If it is determined that the applicant had qualifying service in the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve and his or her application was incorrectly denied on this basis alone, USCIS will treat the applicant's request as a Service motion to reopen under 8 CFR 103.5(a)(5). The USCIS office with current jurisdiction will grant the motion and continue with the naturalization proceedings.

Implementation

This PM is effective immediately. Immigration Services Officers who review National Guard naturalization application packets or conduct naturalization interviews must ensure compliance with this PM.

The AFM is revised as follows:

☞ 1. Paragraph (d)(3) of Chapter 72.2 is revised to read:

(3) N-426: Request for Certification of Military or Naval Service.

An applicant who is filing under section 328 or 329 of the Act must submit Form N-426, Request for Certification of Military or Naval Service (see 8 CFR 328.4, 329.4(a)). Form N-426 confirms whether the applicant served in an active duty status or within the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve, honorably or otherwise, and whether he or she has ever been excused or released from military service based on a claim of alienage. The military completes Form N-426 by certifying military service from official records and the Form is submitted to USCIS with the Application for Naturalization.

Note that veterans of the Armed Forces who were issued DD Form 214, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, are permitted to submit DD Form 214 along with an uncertified Form N-426. Although National Guard members with active duty service may be issued DD Form 214, they are also issued NGB Form 22, National Guard Report of Separation and Record of Service at the time of separation. NGB Form 22 is a certification of National Guard service that captures the dates and character of service (type of discharge). Accordingly, National Guard veterans who were issued NGB Form 22 are permitted to submit that form along with an uncertified Form N-426, to prove qualifying military service.

Both DD Form 214 and NGB Form 22 are certifications of military service. USCIS will accept a completed but uncertified Form N-426 submitted by an applicant filing for naturalization under section 328 or 329 who has separated from the Armed Forces so long as all of the following conditions have been met:

- (1) The applicant is separated from the Armed Forces at the time of filing Form N-400;
- (2) The applicant submitted a photocopy of his or her DD Form 214, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty (or photocopies of multiple DD Form 214s), or a photocopy of his or her NGB Form 22, National Guard Report of Separation and Record of Service (or photocopies of multiple NGB Form 22s) that list the eligible period(s) of service (such service should also be listed on Form N-426); and
- (3) The DD Form 214 or NGB Form 22 contains information on the type of separation and character of service (such information is most likely found on page "Member-4" of DD Form 214 or Block 24 of NGB Form 22).

The NSC may request additional verification if needed to verify military service.

Note: NGB Form 22 is issued to National Guard members who have served in the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve. Conversely, NGB Form 22b, Army National Guard Recruit Force Pool Report, is issued to National Guard members who never serve in the Selected Reserve; therefore USCIS will not accept NGB Form 22b as certification of Selected Reserve service.

See April 29, 2009 Policy Memorandum, Acceptance of DD Form 214 as Certification of Military or Naval Service for Veterans of the Armed Forces and January 24, 2011 Policy Memorandum, Eligibility for Members of the National Guard of the United States to Naturalize under Section 329 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Acceptance of NGB Form 22 as Certification of Military Service for National Guard Veterans.

N-426, Request for Certification of Military or Naval Service

Persons who are serving or have served under specified conditions in the Armed Forces of the United States are granted certain exemptions from the general requirements for naturalization. To establish eligibility, the law requires the department with custody of the service record to certify whether the service member served honorably, and whether each separation from the service was under honorable conditions. Certification of the service member's military service listed on this form is required. Submit this form with Form N-400, Application for Naturalization. If the service member was issued Form DD 214, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, attach a photocopy. NATIONAL GUARD BUREAU
1636 DEFENSE PENTAGON
WASHINGTON DC 20301-1636

NOV 29 2010

Chief, National Guard Bureau

Mr. Alejandro Mayorkas
Director, United States Citizenship and Immigration Services
United States Citizenship and Immigration Services Headquarters
20 Massachusetts Avenue Northwest, Room 5110
Washington, DC 20529

Dear Mr. Mayorkas:

Members of the Army National Guard Personnel Policy Division have been working with Ms. Debra Rogers, Associate Director of your Field Operations Directorate, to ensure that the preferential immigration treatment due to service members in the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve can be more easily accorded to Army National Guard Soldiers and Air National Guard Airmen. In particular, I understand that personnel from our two organizations are working together to ensure that your officers recognize National Guard Bureau Form 22, without further certification, as proof of qualifying Selected Reserve service. The goal is for your officers to accept National Guard Bureau Form 22 as proof of qualifying service, just as they accept Department of Defense Form 214 as proof of active duty service.

I further understand that the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services relies on the various military departments to certify qualifying service; therefore, the National Guard Bureau offers the following guidance regarding the nature of National Guard Bureau Form 22 and of Selected Reserve service:

All service members in drilling units of the Army National Guard or Air National Guard serve in the Selected Reserve, as is evident by comparing 10 United States Code 10145(b) with 10 United States Code 10143(a).

Presently, the overwhelming majority of our Army and Air National Guard members serve within the Selected Reserve; they are issued a National Guard Bureau Form 22 at the end of their service. The National Guard Bureau Form 22 provides a record of their service in the Selected Reserve. A small number of Army National Guard Soldiers never serve in the Selected Reserve and are not issued a National Guard Bureau Form 22; they are recruits who never shipped to their initial entry training. These recruits are issued the National Guard Bureau Form 22b. The National Guard Bureau Form 22b differs substantially from the National Guard Bureau Form 22. Enclosed are copies of National Guard Bureau Form 22 and National Guard Bureau Form 22b.

The effective date of a National Guard Bureau Form 22 is the date of separation from the Selected Reserve. I understand that calculating the time served in the Selected Reserve may determine the eligibility of certain Guardsmen for preferential treatment. The precise length of service in the Selected Reserve can be calculated by subtracting the time indicated in block 10(a) from the effective date located in block 8(b) of National Guard Bureau Form 22.

I can confirm that enlisted personnel attend their initial entry training in a Title 10 status. The authority typically used is 10 United States Code 12301 (d).

The point of contact in this matter is Colonel Dennis Chapman, Chief, Army National Guard Personnel Policy Division, at 703-607-5904 or dennis.chapman@us.army.mil.

Sincerely,

Craig R. McKinley
General, US Air Force
